ELECTRICITY CAN'T THINK BUT YOU CAN

By L. C. Meyer
Electric System Specialist

Did you ever turn on the electric stove and have the radio slowly turn red, while music started coming from your refrigerator? Or plug in the toaster and have the oven door light up with a story?

Of course not—because electricity is dependable. If wiring and appliances are in good, safe condition, we will get the result we expect when we snap a switch, plug in an appliance, or turn on a motor.

There are danger signs to heed and precautions to take if electricity is to continue being a safe, dependable servant. A spark or flash occurring where it shouldn't is a warning of trouble that should be investigated immediately, as it might start a serious fire if the cause isn't remedied.

The first tingle of shock that you feel when a switch is turned on or an appliance is touched is another serious warning to heed — because the second shock could make you feel like the roof caved in!

A shock is usually an indication that a "hot" wire has become grounded or is touching the frame of the device or appliance. Further it is a condition that will grow worse rather than improve.

Appliances such as washing machines, water heaters and stoves should be properly grounded. Portable electric tools used in garages or basements should also be grounded.

Everyone knows the potential danger of frayed extension and lamp cords. Overloading circuits lowers the voltage and may cause fire if proper-sized fuses are not used.

Where electricity causes injury or fire, don't blame the electricity; blame the person who forgot, overlooked or failed to heed a significant warning.

Electricity provides many comforts and conveniences. Thanks partly to its power, former luxuries are now necessities. In order to continue enjoying these benefits, heed all warnings and observe all safe cautions. Let smoke curl from the chimney of your home rather than from between your walls.

Treat electricity with respect—it is an excellent servant but a totally heartless master. Always remember that electricity can't think—but you can.

NEWS FOR VETEANS

Veterans Administration issued a checklist of certain deadline dates before which eligible veterans of the Korean conflict period must act if they wish to take advantage of certain benefits.

Most of the deadlines resulted from the President's proclamation setting January 31, 1955 as the end of the Korean conflict period governing eligibility for the benefits. The conflict period began June 27, 1950.

One of the most important deadlines not affected by the President's proclamation requires that eligible veterans who wish to go to school or train under the Korean GI Bill must start training within three years after they leave service or forfeit all further rights to the benefits. This requirement is contained in the law itself and, therefore, was not affected by the President's proclamation.

Those who start their education or training within the required three-year period must complete their Korean GI Training by January 31, 1963, or eight years after discharge, whichever is earlier. The terminating date of January 31, 1963 resulted from the President's proclamation.

For GI loans on homes, farms or businesses, eligible veterans of the Korean conflict period now have until January 31, 1965 to receive a VA guaranty or insurance as a result of the President's proclamation. No further guaranties or insurance may be issued after that date of loans made to veterans under the present law.

For vocational rehabilitation under Public Law 894, eligible disabled veterans of the Korean conflict period must start in time to finish their rehabilitation by January 31, 1964, or nine years after separation, whichever is earlier. These termination dates apply to all eligible veteans excepting those in certain "hardship" categories. For the latter, an additional four years is granted by law in which to complete their rehabilitation.

Subscription rate: $2.00 a year payable in advance.

Industrial Survey

An industry survey of 28 major pesticide chemicals in the hands of manufacturers this past fall shows the carry-over in 1954 was down about 10% from the year before. U S. Department of Agriculture officials consider this normal. They regard the drop as a healthy adjustment from the surplus situation created by stepped-up production aimed at an enlarged export market that never quite materialized.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for the cards, flowers and gifts sent me while I was in the hospital, and since my return home.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson.

Historic Appomattox Gave Unity and Peace to America

A LIVE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER AT HISTORIC APPOMATTOX COURT HOUSE VIRGINIA

VOLUME NO 63 NUMBER 9 APPOMATTOX, VIRGINIA THURSDAY MARCH 3, 1955 Subscription Rate: $2 Per Year

Father Darkleaf

By c. h. r.

February went into the record with a total of 4.1 inches of rain here. This was a sizeable increase over the month of January. C. S. Taylor keeps the rainfall record for the weather bureau at the Appomattox community.

We had a bit of excitment at our house when we arrived from work Monday. Found that our tulip sprouts were coming up!

We have received a number of cards from friends in all parts of the United States containing newspaper clippings regarding the tragic death of last week-end here. The story really went to the four corners of the country.

We have just come across an interesting account of "The Battle of Lynchburg. June 18, 1864. It was a major battle of the War Between the States, but a Southern general held off an attempt to capture the Hill City, General Jubal Early was involved, The event was led by Major John W. Daniel, who was wounded earlier and could not join this fight. The fight lasted only a few hours.

Mrs. W. Jackson, proprietor of the Marshall House, Alexandria, was the first Confederate man killed in the War Between the States.

We now we can't forget that Bob Hope made $100,000 for one hour's work. Although we are content to hope, it would be nicer to see what Hope lives on. —From Time Times.

And the same source: March may carry many month to some, but to the downtrodden it is not so bad. It's just easy the snow shovel and yet time to get out the mower.

Pierce Harris, of Atlanta, a man wounded in battle, commanding officer inquired of the Department of Highways, in charge him how he felt, and the reply was: "I am hurt, but i am not dead. I will lie me down and bleed to death, then, I will stand up and fight again."

Red Cross Fund Workers Are Announced

For nearly three quarters of a century the American Red Cross has met human needs in peace and war. Chartered by the Congress of the United States, the Red Cross was charged with the responsibility for disaster relief, and with important services for the armed forces.

To these primary functions others have been added over the years until today the Red Cross carries on its work in many distinct areas of human service. Last year these services touched in one way or anther the lives of some 23,000,000 people. Many were members of the armed forces and their families. Many were victims of disaster. Many needed the blood collected and processed by the Red Cross to save their lives.

Conceived in the desire to relieve human suffering, the Red Cross has always been a volunteer organization. A hundred volunteers work in its ranks for every member of the permanent staff. Universally known—perhaps—the Red Cross itself represents the helping hand — extended in the spirit of brotherhood throughout the world. In the fullest sense YOU are the Red Cross.

Success in this campaign will insure the continuation and expansion in 1955 of local programs of Red Cross chapters throughout the country. It will also enable the National organization to answer the call in terms of world-wide service to the armed forces, help for areas stricken by disaster, the collecting and processing of blood and other phases of the overall Red Cross program.

The following citizens have volunteered their services in this fund drive:

Chairman: B. C. Harvey.
Co-chairman: Gene Paulette.

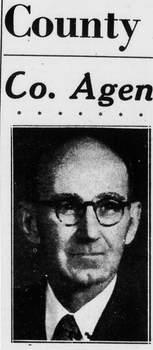
County Mourns Victims of Double Murder

Co. Agent Hudgins to Retire



R. B. HUDGINS
. . . To Retire March 31st

R. B. Hudgins, Appomattox County Agent since the spring of 1926, will retire March 31, according to announcement made this week. The veteran agricultural leader will be succeeded here by James A. Smith, a native of South Carolina and a graduate of Clemson College. Mr. Smith, 29, is at present assistant agent in Halifax County. He is a veteran of World War II, and during his work with the Extension Service has won recognition for his activities with 4-H Clubs, as well as general assistance to farmers.

The retirement of Mr. Hudgins will be made the occasion for a testimonial banquet, scheduled for Thursday night, March 10. Leaders of the V. r. I. Extension Service will join with local farmers and business men in honoring Mr. Hudgins. The banquet, scheduled for the school cafeteria, will include among its distinguished guests Dr. John R. Hutcheson, of V. P. I., and Judge Edwin W. Hudgins, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Virginia. He is a brother of R. B. Hudgins. The banquet is being arranged by the County Agricultural Board.

Rueben Boatwright Hudgins is a native of New Canton, Buckingham County. He attended Fork Union Military Academy and attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He served with the old Tri-State Tobacco Growers Association from 1922 until 1926. He is a Mason, a member of Liberty Baptist Church, and has received many honors during his career in Extension work.

Extension work began in Appomattox in 1911. Major J. W. Flood was the first "county agent" and served from 1911 to 1913. Major Flood used horseback and a buggy to cover the county preaching the theory and programs of "Tom-and-Jerry" legumes would increase yields and make profits for farmers. His personality was an inspiration to farmers and Major Flood declared that we could produce more corn and other crops on farmland by using smart methods.

In 1914, Bernard G. Anderson became the Appomattox County Agent. He was the first agent appointed under the Smith-Lever Act. He was a 1906 graduate at V. P. I., and had served as assistant at the V. P. I. Experiment Station under E. H. Mathinson. He served as the county agent here until 1918, and then is affectionately respected by every citizen of the county for his long career in farm, school and church activities. Mr. Anderson is now retired and resides at his home here.

W. H. Byrne succeeded Anderson as county agent, in 1918. He served for seven years. He was not above taking the handles of a plow to show farmers how to use the ridge system of cultivating tobacco and corn. He worked day and night showing farmers how to mix fertilizers, and better their ways of doing things. And then from his office he directed a variety of activities, such as 4-H Clubs. All the while he preached the worthwhileness of Extension Service to farmers. His efforts attracted wide attention and he moved up in promotion in 1926.

Statement From Dr. O'Brien

Dr. C. G. O'Brien has released the following statement to the people of the county:

"I realize that all of us are saddened by the untimely death of our beloved Dr. David A. Christian, III. And what we say will not relieve this empty feeling we have. He was more than a close friend and a physician to me because he gave me much inspiration in our daily contact. And the only comfort that I can get is in my faith in the Heavenly Father. I am sure He must have a better place for him. We have never received into our midst a duplicate of David Christian. But we are trying to contact some physician that would be interested in locating here. And until we do get help, I beg of you to continue to give me your cooperation. And if you will be patient, I will see all that call me for medical aid.

"My office office will continue 10 A. M. to 12 Noon, and 4 to 6 P. M., everyday, Wednesday included; and Sundays at 9 A. M. I will not remain in my office on Sunday after I finish seeing patients that are there at 9 A. M."

No Plans For Special Jury

As far as is known today, no plans have been made for a special grand jury to expedite the trial of an Evergreen man, charged with a double murder last Friday night. The next regular term of the circuit court is in April. Preliminary hearing in the case will doubtless be held here upon the return of the prisoner from the State Penitentiary Hospital in Richmond.

In a tragic chain of events, which has received tremendous publicity over the entire nation, a dwelling in Evergreen was the scene of the double slaying and an ensuing gun battle with a posse of local officers and state troopers.

Dead were:

Jack Brown Tucker, 44 of Evergreen, and

Dr. D. A. Christian, III, 31, of Appomattox.

Wounded in the gun battle and charged with the crime is Frank Mayberry, 47, of Evergreen.

It appears that Tucker was slain on the back porch of the residence in Evergreen in which he and his wife, her mother, and her brother, Mayberry lived. This shooting apparently occurred sometime after 10 o'clock Friday night.

Called to the scene from his home in Appomattox, Dr. Christian was on an errand of mercy. From a reconstruction of the events, it appears that the popular young doctor was shot as he approached the door of the house.

Christian's body was found on the walk to the house, and removed only after a terrific gun battle between the posse and Mayberry. Nearly two hours passed between the shooting of Tucker and the final arrest of Mayberry. Mayberry was felled by a shotgun blast near a garage hideout from which he had fired from 30 to 50 shots from a pistol and a shotgun at the surrounding officers.

Mayberry was given medical treatment here and sent to Richmond Saturday morning. His wounds are said not to be serious.

The midnight sounding of sirens and the use of flares to light up the scene attracted the attention of a sizeable gathering of spectators and details of the tragedy have been the topic of interest here since.

Funeral services for the victims were held Monday. Services for Mr. Tucker were conducted from the Evergreen Baptist Church, by the pastor, the Rev. D. L. Bailey. Military services were conducted by the grave by American Legion Post 104. Burial was in the Evergreen Cemetery.

Funeral services for Dr.Christian were held here Monday at 11 A. M., from Appomattox Court House Presbyterian Church, conducted by his pastor, Dr. Twyman Williams, assisted by Dr. C. A. Collins, Jr., and the Rev. R. T. Price.

A great concourse of friends gathered for the services. An outpouring of floral tributes and messages of condolence bore testimony to the esteem in which the young physician and his family are held.

Son of Dr. D. A. Christian, Jr. the physician began his practice here following service in the Navy during World War II. He occupied the office his father had used for a generation of service to the people this area. Affectionay known as "Young Doctor David," he endeared himself to the public by his skill as a physician and the charm of his personality. He was serving as a member of the Appomattox Town Council and recently organized a group here to further the cause of physical education at the Appomattox school.

As a mark of respect, local business places closed during the funeral hour. A movement has begun to have an appropriate memorial in his honor. A meeting of friends was held this week to organize a memorial movement, and another meeting will be held Monday night.

Dr. Christian is survived by his wife, the former Louise Campbell of Staunton; three children, Mary, 6; Pamela, 4, and David A. Christian, IV, 7 months; his father, Dr. David A. Christian, Jr; and the following sisters and brother: Mrs. George L. Koos, of Tangent, Oregon; Mrs. Worth Harris, La Crosse, Florida; Mrs. Harold E. Thompson, Jr.; Staten Island, New York; Mrs. W. J. Byerly, of El Paso, Texas; Mrs. John E. Cox, Jr., Fall River
